North Atlantic's White Peril—Coast Guarder Champlain of the North Atlantic patrol is pictured between twin peaks of a huge iceberg as the cutter radioed warnings to ships. "oday, the cutter radioed that the Canadian S. S. Beaverhill struck such an iceberg. The Beaverhill "advises in no immediate danger, proceeding."

G-MEN COMB N. E. FOR RACKET KING

As the Department of Justice mobilized to hunt down Louis "Lepke" Buchalter, the nation's most feared racketeer, even as it mobilized to hunt down the kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby, New England G-men were given specific instructions today as to their part in the country-wide search.

With the return of United States Attorney Edmund J. Brandon from a national conference of government attorneys in the office of Federal Attorney John T. Cahill in New York, New England's federal police were given their far-reaching assignment.

Brandon definitely refused comment on the conference, or on any aspect of the case "at this time."

SPREAD NET OVER N. E.

It was learned, however, that following conferences between Chief Department of Justice Agent Virgil Peterson and Brandon, key men were ordered to haunt every public place in the New England States. A definite program of action was mapped out, based on a voluminous report of interlocking gang activities throughout the nation showing Lepke, as he is generally known, to have been a key figure in the biggest rackets in the country.

The report was compiled by the Department of Justice after two years of patient and often dangerous study of national crime, undertaken in much the same way as an accountant's study of an international corporation might be.

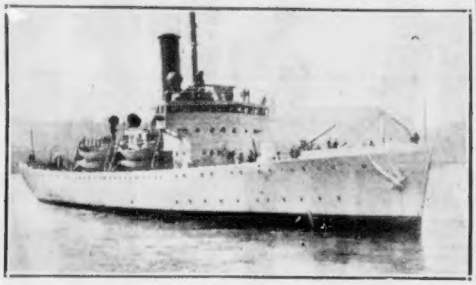

In it, it was learned, occur all the ramifications of Lepke's connections reaching far back into the underworld of prohibition days, and covering illegal, often lethal activities in virtually every state in the union.

HAD "TIE-UP" HERE

Lepke's New England connections and they are many, it was understood—furnished the basis for the campaign of action mapped out by Brandon and Peterson.

FREIGHTER RAMS ICEBERG; 74 SAFE

The 10,000-ton Canadian-Pacific steamship line freighter Beaverhill, carrying a crew of 74, narrowly escaped disaster today when she collided with an iceberg in dense fog 100 miles off the coast of Newfoundland.

As the stricken freighter's officers hurriedly took stock of damage to the vessel's hull in the crash, terse wireless messages reported the accident.

Three ships immediately raced toward the Beaverhill to give aid, if necessary. First to reach the scene was the Cunard-White Star liner Ausonia, which stood by.

Captain T. Jones of the Beaverhill declined assistance, however, announcing by radio that the inner hull of his vessel had held firm.

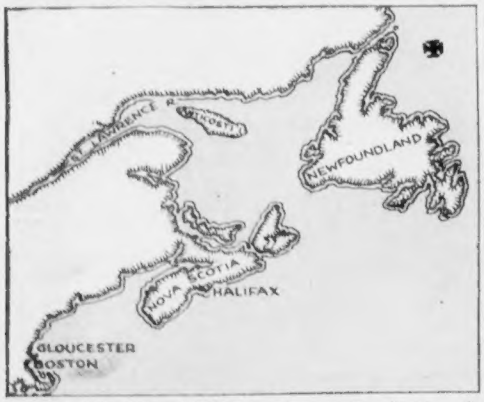

The freighter was taking no water, he said, and would proceed on its scheduled voyage to London and Antwerp.

The Beaverhill left Montreal, August 4, with a general cargo.

Ships that started to her rescue today included the U. S. Shipping Board freighter Monticlaire and the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Champlain. The latter was on ice patrol.

Originally built as a passenger liner for the Montreal-to-Liverpool run, the Beaverhill was converted into a refrigerator ship several years ago.

The cargo she took from Montreal on her present trip was largely of perishable foodstuffs.

1st Resignation Here Under 'Political' Law

The first echo in New England of the recently signed Hatch bill, forbidding federal employes from engaging in political activities, was heard in Boston today.

United States Atty. Edmund J. Brandon announced that Alfred Malagodi of Whitman, an assistant federal attorney, had sent his resignation as a member of the Democratic state committee.

Morgenthau Leaves London for Denmark

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., United States Secretary of the Treasury, stopped in London a few hours today en route to Denmark.

"I am leaving for Denmark," he said, "and that shows I have no business in London. In any event, London on a bank holiday is deserted."

3 Missionaries, Pilot Die in Plane Crash

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Rev. Bruno Hagspiel, S. V. D., mission procurator of the Society of the Divine Word, said today he had received a cable from Madang, territory of New Guinea, reporting the death of three missionaries and an unidentified pilot in an airplane crash.

Writ Orders Ex-Cop To Tell 'Crime Ring' Story to Grand Jury

In a swift and utterly unprecedented action, Superior Court Judge Frederick W. Fosdick today took a commanding hand in the Paul A. Petzold police "crime ring case" by issuing an order for a writ of habeas corpus to bring Petzold before the grand jury.

Judge Fosdick's order followed a lengthy conference with Dist. Atty. William J. Foley, who earlier had summoned other witnesses in the case involving the ex-Boston patrolman to appear before the grand jury notwithstanding a recommendation that Petzold, the state's star witness, be committed for mental observation.

As Dist. Atty. Foley and Judge Fosdick conferred, there arrived at Foley's office the three Boston police deputy superintendents who are investigating Petzold's charges against the department, James R. Claflin, Benjamin Wall and John M. Anderson.

TO JURY TOMORROW

After talking with the superintendents, Foley announced he had been given a 97-page report made by them on the charges, and that he could not comment other than to say the entire case will be given the grand jury tomorrow, taking precedence over all other business.

He said other witnesses would include Mrs. Yvonne Petzold of Van Norden st., Reading, Petzold's wife, the three deputy superintendents and police stenographers.

Joseph Linsey, owner of a Huntington ave. restaurant, and his employee are also to testify.

Clerk William M. Prendible of the Suffolk Superior Court said he had ordered a sanity test for the ex-policeman who has accused three members of the Boston police department of aiding him in a career of crime because the Briggs law provides for a mental examination of any prisoner held for the grand jury who has had a previous conviction.

UNDER MORALS CHARGE

Prendible said the probation officer found that Petzold had been given a two-year suspended sentence in 1936 on a morals charge when he went away to Virginia with a married nurse.

While under charges for this offense Petzold resigned from the police department.

Dr. Clifton T. Perkins, state commissioner of health, confirmed that the order for the examination came from the office of Superior Court Clerk Prendible.

Petzold is said to have confessed to robberies at the S. S. Pierce store in Copley Sq., a Howard Johnson restaurant, a shoe store in Roxbury and the holdup and kidnaping of a rent collector in Brighton.

LECHE INDICTED IN LA.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 7 (INS)—In the most startling blow yet struck at the heirs of the late Sen. Huey P. Long the federal grand jury today indicted Richard W. Leche, resigned governor of Louisiana.

Leche was charged with conspiracy to violate the Connally "hot oil" act.

He also was charged in the same indictment with conspiring to defraud the United States government.

Named with Leche were Seymour Weiss, hotel owner and political czar; Freeman Burford, president of the East Texas Refining Co., of Dallas, Tex., and the East Texas Refining Co.

Weiss was also charged in one indictment with $143,000 evasion of income tax in 1936.

Child Killed Under El Car; Mother Hurt

Stumbling over a trolley car rail as she crossed Brighton avenue, Allston, today, five-year-old Claire Brassil lost her firm grip on her mother's hand and fell to death under the grinding wheels of a street car.

Her mother, Mrs. Mary Brassil, of Islington ter., Allston, wife of Patrolman George Brassil of the Dudley street police station, was seriously injured as the heavy trolley hit her a glancing blow and knocked her to the street.

The police, fire and elevated departments were called. All traffic was held up and hundreds of spectators, from the trolley, private cars and the sidewalks gathered.

The mother, placed in an ambulance, kept crying and calling:

"Why couldn't it have been me? Why was my little girl hurt?"

A jack was put under the street car to lift the heavy front truck under which the girl was pinned, but the jack wouldn't move the car.

Walter Melanson of Fayston st., Roxbury, was standing behind Motorman Dennis Spillane of Tufts st., Arlington, in the crowded surface car as it began to slow down to make a stop at the corner of Brighton and Harvard avenues.

TELLS OF TRAGEDY

"I saw a little girl in a short pink summer dress crossing the tracks holding on to her mother's hand," he said. "The child was about a foot behind her mother, and almost as the street car reached them, the girl stumbled over the rail.

"She fell to one knee and as her mother turned to lift her, the street car hit them both, dragging the girl underneath and knocking the mother aside."

Finally, in desperation, to the accompaniment of horrified sighs from spectators, auto horns and the cries of Mrs. Brassil, firemen worked their way under the street car with hack saws and cut the crossbars that held the child prisoner.

She was put in the ambulance with the mother but was dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth's.

Neighbors said the Brassils, who returned from Maine only yesterday, are the parents of three other children.

Their home was closed and Brassil was not at the Dudley Street station.

MRS. DIXIE DAVIS
Former Hope Dare Weds 'Kid Mouthpiece'

DEWEY ASSAILED FOR DIXIE BRIDAL

NYACK, N. Y., Aug. 7 (AP)—A barrage of criticism was aimed at New York's District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey today protesting the "seclusion in Rockland County" of honeymooning Hope Dare, read-headed ex-showgirl, and Dixie Davis, former gang lawyer who knew nothing of his wedding until he arrived at the altar.

Miss Dare, who induced Davis to testify against the underworld, and the disbarred attorney who guided the notorious Dutch Schultz gang through a maze of legal difficulties — were married yesterday in the office of a Nyack lawyer and immediately disappeared under chaperonage of detectives.

Dixie Davis

Today, Chief of Police Walter Liebert of nearby Clarkstown said residents had deluged his office with protests against the couple's supposed residence in the vicinity.

FEARS GANG REPRISALS

Liebert said he had a right to know where Mr. and Mrs. Davis were—if they were in his territory—because "we don't want New York hoodlums here. Dewey had no right to send them up here."

He explained citizens were afraid of gang reprisals against Davis with possible injury to innocent persons, and that the county wanted nothing to do with Davis or his 28-year-old bride.

He communicated with George V. Dorsey, Rockland County district attorney, who said he was endeavoring to lodge the complaint with Dewey. Dewey detectives have guarded Davis constantly since he was released from jail recently after serving 126 days for his part in a lottery racket.

CAMERA LOGS WEDDING

Meanwhile, Ralph Geffen, the attorney in whose office the nuptial ceremony took place, said "details of the wedding were arranged for Davis"—that the former underworld lawyer knew nothing of the affair until the last moment.

Police Judge Emanuel Goldstein, who performed the ceremony, said a detective took "about a dozen photographs of the wedding from all angles," indicating there was an official desire that every phase of the proceedings be recorded.

For days, Dewey has kept Davis on the move, secreting him in various hiding places in the metropolitan area.

The license was issued in the name of Julius Davis, 34, and Julia Ricker, Hope Dare's real name. She said it was her second marriage, her first husband having been David S. Ricker, a Los Angeles newspaperman now dead.

EILEEN ENJOYS 1ST BEACH TRIP

Eileen Parker had the most glorious day of her young life yesterday . . .

She hasn't had much fun, Eileen hasn't, for all during her thirteen years it's been one boarding-house after another. Not that people haven't always been kind to her. They have, but she just didn't get around much.

But yesterday she went to Nantasket Beach with her brother, Joe. He's an orphan, too, but he's sixteen, and he's got a job and everything is all right with him . . .

BROTHER PLANNED IT

What made it a particularly nice party was that Joe had planned it long before Eileen was invited to a four-day visit to Hollywood as the guest of Linda Ware, screendom's newest child star—and that, of course, will be just about the most glorious thing that ever could happen.

But as a preview to Hollywood yesterday's party was in a class by itself.

To begin with, practically everything was a "first." Eileen had never been to Nantasket. She had never been on a boat, for that matter, so it started out perfectly with that lovely ride which all of we Boston love so much, down the bay, through the narrows, past all sorts of mysterious islands, and, finally, Nantasket! It isn't every city which has such a lovely harbor, so beautiful a trip at its doorstep.

JOE IS "FAMILY"

And she had never been in an amusement park, or on a roller coaster.

But best of all there was Joe—big, strong, protective. Joe is "Family," and "family" is pretty important to a little girl who has never known one.

To top it off Miss Dorothy Noonan—she works for the Child Welfare Department, and has sort of been in charge of Eileen—was along too. And Miss Noonan has been about the best kind of a friend a little girl could have. Then there were a couple of reporters, but they sort of stayed in the background, and didn't bother anybody too much, so even they were all right.

The day started at noon with the gathering of the party at Rowe's wharf. Eileen, who's been assigned to a girl's school on the Fenway, arrived with Joe and Miss Noonan. Joe, quite a fellow for his age, had

Plane Joins Fugitive Elephant Hunt

STAUNTON, Va., Aug. 7 (AP)—A plane from the Staunton municipal airport droned over Virginia woods today in search of an escaped circus elephant and show workers attempted to lure the two-ton Elsie out of hiding by chaining two other elephants in a field.

The elephant continued at large more than 24 hours after escaping in the wreck of a trailer en route from West Virginia to Roanoke, Va.

An attendant and another elephant were killed in the highway wreck.

Dawn today brought no sign of the huge beast, except a trampled fence here and there.

STATE LABOR CHIEF BLASTS SALTONSTALL

Find 8 Young Picnickers, Lost All Night

Hungry and cold, but otherwise none the worst for their experience, eight Charlestown youngsters ranging in ages from 14 to 19 were back home today after a night during which Salem police were scouring the countryside for them.

While police and volunteers searched for the missing girls and boys throughout the night, the youngsters were huddling for warmth and shelter under a shut-down soft drink stand. They had strayed away from a party of 35 enjoying a day at Salem Willows.

Today, John Aylward, brother of two of the five girls in the party, drove down to the Willows and succeeded where the police had failed in finding them near the swimming pool on the road to the Coast Guard Air Base.

The rescued youngsters were Rita Aylward, 14, and her sister, Elizabeth, 19, of Belmont st.; Anna Bryson, 16; Mary Dennehy, 14; Mary Doherty, 16; Michael Doherty, 16, all of Russell st.; John Shephard of Belmont st., and James Keene, 17, of Medford st.

Charges He Failed To Keep 'Promises'

Goveronr Saltonstall's labor policies were blasted today by President William P. Morrissey of the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor, as he opened the federation's 54th annual convention by reading his annual report.

More than 700 delegates, representing 250,000 members of over 1000 unions, crowded the ballroom of the Bradford Hotel as the session began business.

"Governor Saltonstall has done nothing to convey the impression that he has changed his policy toward the wage earners of the Commonwealth," Morrissey told the delegates.

The Federation supported former Governor James M. Curley against the governor in the last campaign.

While no direct mention of the Barre Wool Company strike was made in the opening session, chief interest among the delegates centered on what the Governor's explanation of his attitude in the strike area would be.

CHARGE PROMISES BROKEN

The Governor is scheduled to adress the convention tomorrow.

Morrissey said Governor Saltonstall's acts in office thus far have vindicated the federation's decision against him before the last election.

He accused the Governor of ignoring the federation in reorganizing the State Unemployment Compensation Commission, and the State Labor Relations Commission as "doing a bad job."

"As Chief Executive he has had a chance to prove himself to labor," the Federation president declared.

"But with his own party in control, he has failed to keep the promises and pledges he made from the Republican convention platform last fall."

Morrissey recalled that as a member of the House, Governor Saltonstall voted for three labor bills, and against 37.

REDS RULE ON COAST

The convention opened with an invocation by the Rev. George J. Hines, of the Mission Church, Roxbury, and an address of welcome by acting Mayor George A. Murray, who conveyed the regrets of Mayor Tobin at his inability to be present.

A telegram was received from Sen. Lodge, who explained his absence by revealing that he has been appointed to the Senate Recess Committee.

Another wire, from John F. Gatelee, former state federation president, expressed indigation at the state of labor affairs in California.

"Communism is rampant, and the CIO is an honored guest here," Gatelee wired from the coast.

Following the Morrissey report and naming of nine committees to report to the convention during its week of meetings, the delegates heard the tax system condemned by Louis Jerome Johnson, professor emeritus of civil engineering at Harvard University.

Prof. Johnson declared the American system of local and state government follows too closely its British heritage, and added that a majority of the people are denied true representation in government.

SPED TO DAUGHTER—When doctors wired Mr. and Mrs. John W. Donnan at Albany, N. Y., that a blood transfusion was necessary to aid their daughter Dorothy, suffering from spinal tumor at Children's Hospital, they sped over roads in race with death. Dad's transfusion improved daughter's condition.

Victim Traps 2 Boys In $10 Extort Plot

The stolen pocketbook was worth only 50 cents, but there were personal papers in it, so—

The owner, Joseph Alosso of Everett, received an anonymous note in the mail. It told him:

"Wear a white carnation in your buttonhole, bring $10 to ——'s restaurant in Scollay square, and some one will tell you how to get your wallet back."

Alosso wore the flower, went to the restaurant, but took $2 instead of $10. And the $2 was in marked $1 bills.

Result was that two Charlestown youths pleaded guilty to extortion charges in Suffolk superior court today.

Judge Frederick W. Fosdick sternly lectured the defendants, William C. Jodney and Albert Heatley, each 19, and placed them on probation for three years.

Their lawyer said they had been "reading too many detective stories."

Police testified Alosso's pocketbook was stolen from his auto in City sq., Charlestown, May 21. Young Jodney pleaded guilty to the theft.

Arrest of Jodney and Heatley was by Patrolman John Enos of the Joy st. station. He nabbed the youths as they conferred with Alosso.

Gypsy Dad Bids $10 For 'Kidnaped' Girl

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—A gypsy father who said three men had "kidnaped" his 12-year-old daughter, Dorothy, and demanded $25 ransom today posted a $10 reward for her return.

The parent, George Stevens, 47, an unemployed coppersmith, said the girl had been "pushed into a car" by the men while playing in front of her East 113th street home early Sunday.

Stevens said his daughter, who dressed in gypsy costume, wore many pieces of dime-store jewelry which might mistakenly have led her abductors to believe the family was wealthy.

Police, who also launched a wide search through the underbrush of a Canarsie swamp after reports a kidnaped girl had been dragged there, listed the Stevens girl merely as a "missing person" case.

The Canarsie search was ordered after William Straube, 28, of Brooklyn, told police that while picking up firewood on the edge of the swamp near Canarsie Beach last night he saw a white girl, about 10 years old, 150 yards away, waving her arms and screaming for help.

Straube said that when he ran to her aid two Negroes who apparently had been holding her seized him and beat him with their fists and a pipe. He was treated for a lacerated scalp.

A squad of 20 police who searched the swamp with flashlights found no trace of the girl.

Sick Boy's Plea Fails; Mother Dives to Death

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—"Please, mummy, don't kill yourself."

With tears in his eyes, lying sick in bed, 11-year-old Frank Kantor successfully pleaded with his despondent mother, Mrs. Miriam Kantor, 32, not to carry out a threat of suicide.

"We couldn't get along without you," he begged, asking what would become of his brother Norman, 14, and sister, Ruth, 9, if they were left motherless.

That was Saturday. The mother smiled at him, patted his hand.

"I was only fooling," she said gently.

The boy whispered to his father what had happened, and kept a watch.

Early today, while the family slept, Mrs. Kantor slipped out of the first-floor apartment in the Bronx, went to the roof and plunged six stories to her death.

The husband, Isadore, said she had been despondent the last two years because of financial reverses.

New Pontoons Sent to Squalus

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 7—Salvagers of the wrecked submarine Squalus today lowered pontoons for the second lifting attempt.

The first two of the ten pontoons were taken to the scene from outer Portsmouth harbor by the navy tug Sagamore.

PRESIDENT SEES PUBLIC MAKE CONGRESS YIELD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A new struggle to swing popular opinion for or against the unfinished items on the Roosevelt program was in the making today as members of the first $13,000,000,000 Congress laid their record before the "home folks."

From President Roosevelt down, Administration leaders took the attitude that public reaction would force the 1940 Congress to adopt most of the New Deal measures shelved during the session which ended Saturday night.

Republican legislators, on the other hand, argued that next year the Senate and the House would show even greater independence and that there was a distinct drift away from Administration policies.

PRESIDENT STILL HOPEFUL

Indications pointed to a record amount of political and legislative debate throughout the country before the final Congress of Mr. Roosevelt's second term meets in January.

The President, who will leave tonight for Hyde Park, N. Y., to study the last batch of congressional bills, may discuss the situation when he goes to the west coast in October.

He was represented by Senate Leader Barkley (D.) of Kentucky, as believing that when opposition congressmen have sounded out their constituents, they will modify their views on such measures as the neutrality and lending programs. The former was held over until next year, and the latter was killed by a bi-partisan coalition in the House.

In direct contrast with the Administration view that the New Deal forces would be more successful next year, Senator Austin (R.) of Vermont, the acting minority leader, contended the anti-Roosevelt coalition would show even greater strength than in the last session.

MARTIN'S STATEMENT

"I think that the coalition movement is growing," Austin said, "and will extend right on into the 1940 campaign."

Rep. Martin (R.) of Massachusetts, the House Republican leader who held his men firmly together throughout the session, issued a statement saying the minority had "substantially redeemed" its 1938 pledges to "check one-man government, stop rubber-stamp legislation and restore constitutional processes in national administration."

Martin's statement was regarded as the start of a Republican drive in preparation for the next session of Congress and the 1940 election. He will speak Aug. 26 at Dexter, Me., opening that state's political campaign.

Save 4 on Sloop In Harbor

A yachting party of two youthful Boston couples, marooned for more than three hours on a sloop grounded on Deer Island in Boston harbor, was rescued today by the police boat William H. Fierce.

John Gibbons and his sister Patricia, of Morton street, Dorchester; Sylvia Gates of West Roxbury and Charles Sullivan of Adams street, Dorchester, were on board.

Meanwhile search was being pressed for the 34-foot auxiliary Virginia disabled off Marblehead.

Kane Takes Thrills Out of False Alarms

Mayor William E. Kane of Woburn was beaming today over apparent success of his newest bright idea—that of "de-glamouring" false fire alarms!

Hoping fondly this idea would prove worth a regiment of militiamen, the mayor temporarily at least postponed his plan for calling state troops to deal with the false alarm epidemic in his city.

"The stunt I thought up worked fine last night," Mayor Kane said today. "I just ordered the city fire siren turned off and the alarm boxes connected merely with tickers in the station.

THRILL IS MISSING

"That took the thrill and the glamour out of pulling false alarms. No noise, no crowds, no nothing.

"Furtherm re, I directed that a police prowl car answer all alarms with the apparatus, with th cops k ping a sharp eye out for perpetrators of monkey-business.

"We haven't had a false alarm in the past 24 hours, so it looks as if the alarm pulling racket might be pettering out. I was convinced all along it was just a concerted plot to put me in the middle for dropping those call-firemen from the pay roll.

"Only 50 per cent of 'em were showing up for fires, anyway, so it seemed we could spare some—and save the city money.

READY TO "FIGHT"

"I'm still prepared, however, to call out the militia to deal with the false alarm ringers, if I have to. I have sufficient authority, in an emergency situation local police can't deal with.

"What I'd really like to do would be to borrow a squad of U. S. marines from the navy yard. I'm a former leatherneck myself you know. It wouldn't take my old buddies long to have this situation here in hand.

"The people of Woburn are behind me. It's only a few soreheads who are making trouble.

"And if they really want a fight, Billy Kane is the fellow who will give it to 'em."

SAFE AGAIN—After wandering in Livingstonville, N. Y., woods for 33 hours, two-year-old David Ellett is returned to his mother's arms. CCC boys found him two miles from home.

PLANE VICTIM BETTER

WATERBURY, Ct., Aug. 7—Robert J. Miller of this city, injured in a plane crash here Friday night, was slightly better today, according to reports from Lynchburg, Va., where he crashed.

2500 SEEK 350 NEW JOBS

A block-long queue of 2500 job hunters today beseiged the Houghton & Dutton building, scheduled to reopen as a department store, but police had to turn them away because employment application blanks were missing.

There are 350 jobs to be filled, according to Edward Turner, of the No. 1 Beacon street corporation, which announced reopening of the store but set no date.

Several score persons gained admittance to the building and left their names and addresses before the crowds were turned away.

Six policemen and Capt. William D. Donovan had a hard time to keep traffic moving on Beacon street.

Shea Sworn in As Murphy's Aide

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Francis M. Shea was inducted into office today as assistant Attorney General in charge of the claims division.

Johnson, Swope Lead in Ky. Vote

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 7 (AP)—Lieut.-Gov. Keen Johnson, Democrat, and Judge King Swope, Republican, held to their leads for Kentucky's gubernatorial nominations as counting of ballots cast in Saturday's primary was resumed today.

3 St. Sauveurs Offered Home

The death penalty paid by Walter St. Sauveur, 19, for murder of a Somerville storekeeper, may be the instrument to provide his orphan sister and two brothers with a comfortable home with new-found relatives.

For news of the execution sent Dolphus St. Sauveur, 44, of Rochester, N. H., hurrying to Boston to claim the rest of the little family as the children of his brother John.

"I am convinced those children are my niece and nephews and I want to give them a good home."

Just Priming The Cleaner

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

The runaway Congress galloped like a mule on a treadmill and ran up plenty of stationary mileage.

One thing it has done and that is to answer the question we asked a year ago. Are we priming a pump or a vacuum cleaner?

Congress decided it was a vacuum cleaner. Now there is only one more problem to be decided. Have we locked the stable door after the mule has eaten all the oats?

"With a cigarette as good as CAMEL, it's swell to get those extra puffs!"

SAYS LLOYD CHILD,
FAMOUS POWER-DIVE TEST PILOT

By burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—CAMELS give a smoking plus equal to

5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK

Here are the facts about cigarettes recently confirmed through scientific laboratory tests of 16 of the largest-selling brands:

1 CAMELS were found to contain MORE TOBACCO BY WEIGHT than the average for the 15 other of the largest-selling brands.

2 CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME OF THE 15 OTHER OF THE LARGEST-SELLING BRANDS! By burning 25% slower, on the average, Camels give smokers the equivalent of 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

3 In the same tests, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER than the average time for all the other brands.

Yes, those choicer tobaccos for which Camel pays millions more do make a difference! Camels are the quality cigarette every smoker can afford.

MORE PLEASURE PER PUFF—
MORE PUFFS PER PACK—

Penny for penny your best cigarette buy

Copyright, 1939, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

LLOYD CHILD at Buffalo Airport, scene of his recent world record power-dive—more than 575 m.p.h. in the Curtiss Hawk 75-A—pauses to give his slant on cigarettes: "I've smoked Camels for about fifteen years. I knew that they were the long-burning cigarette. That means more smoking for my money. On a pack of twenty, as those scientific reports show, it's like getting five extra smokes per pack. It's the right kind of smoking, too—mild and swell, cooler, non-irritating, better for my kind of steady, day-after-day smoking." Don't miss the fun of smoking Camels! Enjoy their matchless blend of choice tobaccos...while enjoying the economy of that long-burning feature that makes Camels "penny for penny your best cigarette buy."

British Accuse Japs Of Deliberate Raids

SHANGHAI, Aug. 7 (AP)—British accused the Japanese today of making a premeditated attack on British interests in air raids yesterday at Ichang in which two British river steamers were destroyed with the death of four crewmen and injury of five and property of the Asiatic Petroleum Company was damaged.

All the victims were Chinese except H. J. Denyer, a Canadian, who was reported in a grave condition from bomb fragment injuries. There were two separate attacks.

Ichang is more than 1000 miles up the Yangtze river from Shanghai.

A strong British protest was lodged with Admiral Koshiro Oikawa, commander of the Japanese naval forces in China waters, who said he was referring it to army authorities because "no navy planes attacked Ichang yesterday."

TO CLOSE ANOTHER PORT

A Japanese army spokesman said "We have no information. If it happened, it is a regrettable mistake."

Furthering their drive to blockade the China coast, Japanese naval authorities announced they would close at 11 a. m. tomorrow the port of Haimen in Chekiang Province, 250 miles south of Shanghai.

British naval reports from the gunboat Gannet, whose officers witnessed the Ichang attacks, said the raiders, 12 planes in all, appeared not to be concerned with any objective but the anchorage of British ships just below Ichang and nearby waterfront property of the Asiatic Petroleum Company.

These reports said the planes dived at the oil plant and the anchored ships, which included 18 lighters, a floating dock and two tugs, "with seeming undeniable intent to destroy this foreign property."

BULLETIN

PEIPING, Aug. 7 (INS)—An anti-American movement similar to the anti-British campaign which resulted in Japanese riots against Britain, was reported to be gaining momentum today.

A mob demonstration by Japanese-inspired Chinese was reported to have occurred in Schihchiachwang, important railway terminal 170 miles south of here.

ANTI-FRENCH DRIVE

Meanwhile an anti-French campaign at Tientsin and confiscation of British missions, hospitals and schools in Honan province were predicted today by the Japanese press.

The Japanese blockade of the British and French concessions at Tientsin, after 53 days, was reported to have cut off virtually all meat and fish from the British zone.

Tientsin newspapers said inclusion of the French in the "Asia-for-Asiatics" campaign against foreigners might result from French silence regarding the central Chinese government's silver reserves held in Chinese banks in the French concession.

Britain Eyes Nazi, Italian Maneuvers

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Great Britain kept an alert eye on German and Italian military operations today as she sent her own land, sea and air forces into two months of unprecedented peace-time war maneuvers.

London circles displayed particular interest in German army movements in Pomerania, Silesia and Moravia, which border on the frontiers of Poland.

There was considerable interest also in Italian army exercises in Piedmont and Lombardy, along the French and Swiss frontiers.

Reservists in Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary, Greece and Turkey converged on army and air corps centers. In some of those countries frontier fortifications were being built at top speed and armament factories were running on 24-hour schedules.

60 More Die In Spain Purge

MADRID, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Spanish government pushed a cleanup of criminal and subversive elements today after putting to death 58 men and two women for a triple killing.

Execution of seven more persons for the assassination of Isaac Gabaldon, inspector of military police, his 17-year-old daughter and a civil guard, Jose Luis Diez, was announced.

It raised to 60 the number of alleged "Red conspirators" sent before firing squads for the slayings.

NAZI O. K. ON PARLEY QUIETS POLES

WARSAW, Aug. 7 (AP)—Polish reports from Danzig today said Nazi authorities there had agreed to negotiate their customs dispute precipitated by the Danzig-Polish herring and margarine war."

This brought immediate relaxation of tension, although the Polish press voiced irritation at German Nazi activities in Danzig, taking their cue from a speech yesterday by Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, commander of Polish armed forces, who used such phrases as "clear warning" and "Polish guns may roar."

Knowles on Stand At Bridges Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7 (INS)—Harry Bridges won't indulge in any long speeches from the witness stand at Angel Island today—he'll sit back in silence while his attorneys attempt to make some one else squirm under questioning.

The first person to face the questioning of defense counsel today is Harper Knowles, chairman of the American Legion committee on subversive activities, who branded Bridges as a Communist in his testimony before the Dies committee in Washington.

This procedure is in line with the defense's plan, not to attack immediately the government's contention that Bridges is a Communist, but to show that Bridges is a victim of capitalistic plot, sponsored by waterfront employers who have suffered most from Bridges' activities on the Pacific Coast waterfronts.

Defense counsel has promised that later testimony, in their belief, will show that Bridges is not a Communist.

Knowles will be a willing witness, anxious to repeat his accusations, and prepared to back his assertions with all the proof in his possession as a result of his investigation of Bridges' activities.

It is expected that the appearance of Knowles will be the signal for a violent attack by defense counsel on his credibility.

Government counsel working intensively over the week-end, are prepared to resist any attack on the testimony of Knowles — and, possibly by interposing objections and comment in this rather unorthodox hearing, to make a boomerang of some of the defense questioning.

One of the touchiest points of Knowles testimony will deal with his assertion that Bridges would have been deported quite some time ago as an undesirable alien had it not been for the friendly attitude of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

Defense Attorney Richard Gladstein has said that he expects to take "about one witness a day," which means that the hearing probably will drag out for another month, as he has subpoenaed more than a score of witnesses.

100 in Picture-Cycle Trip to Islands

The New Haven railroad's fourth Picture-Cycle Excursion to Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket, Sunday, was highly successful, with a capacity crowd of 700, railroad officials reported today.

Camera enthusiasts had ideal weather for their shutter-snapping, salt water fishing addicts "found 'em biting" and bicyclists, as always, made the most of the scenic possibilities of whichever island they chose to visit.

Next Picture-Cycle train and boat excursion, to same destinations: Sunday, August 20!

Public Is Invited To Simpson Springs

Opportunity for visitors to inspect the famed Simpson Springs carbonated beverages plant, founded 61 years ago on the site of a spring that had long been famous for the chill purity of its water, was announced today by the Simpson Spring Company.

The plant, located at South Easton, is considered one of the most up-to-date of its kind. Eighteen beverages are manufactured by the company.

EILEEN HAS BIG DAY AT NANTASKET BEACH

picked them up and brought them down.

Then came the trip on the Boston and Nantasket Steamship Co.'s flagship, the Town of Hull, a big, roomy ship, with plenty of places to get the sun. Someone had brought field glasses and it was fun to watch the shipping in the harbor.

Once at Nantasket it was decided that Paragon Park was the place to go. Swimming is all right, but a little girl can go swimming almost any time. So Paragon Park it was. Mrs. David Green, who runs the place, received Eileen most graciously—someone had told her she was coming—and gave her a fistful of tickets for everything in the park.

"And when you run out of those," she said, "you just come back and get some more. We're going to make this a day of days."

It was—from the caterpillar to the giant roller-coaster, which zips out of the sky at, well, maybe a hundred miles an hour or so, and shoots around curves like a sky-rocket. And she went on the Old Mill, the airplanes, the merry-go-round, the skooter, the Hey Hey, the Lindy Loop, and the Whip—everything in the park.

Then there was a dinner in the Palm Garden, and, as the sun settled into the West, the ride home again.

Joe, by the way, who is keeping the Parker family together as best he can—he's got all the kids located now, thanks to a friendly policeman, John Hourihan, of the Warren avenue station, who helped him trace them—works for a bus company, is self-supporting and is definitely on the way up . . . There are six boys and two girls scattered here and there, one as far away as New York city.

It's Joe's ambition to get 'em all under one roof, and he may do it.

Eileen leaves for Hollywood in a few days because of a letter she wrote to Linda Ware after a story about the child star appeared in The American. She couldn't help pouring out her heart to another little girl who was also an orphan.

During her four days in Hollywood she will go to Catalina, a guest at a Paramount studio party, and will be Linda's own guest at the world premier of the 14-year-old singing star's first picture, "The Star Maker."

She will be accompanied by a chaperone, and will ride on de luxe, extra-fare trains all the way, with all expenses paid by Linda Ware, herself. Two little girls, who will be very good friends, indeed . . .

You Ought to See the Doll's Clothes I Found at Grants!

It's as complete as a grown-up dep't—and NOTHING will delight your daughter more than a gift for her favorite doll! Did you know you could buy doll's shoes with roller skates attached for only 10c—and little eight-piece layettes that cost 39c are really adorable! The dress I've sketched with separate panties costs a quarter—and the hat (in straw or felt) 10c. These are some of the "fashion" ideas I couldn't resist but you'll find many more—all kinds of dolls and toys—and at substantial savings. These discoveries from the toy dept. located in the basement of W. T. GRANT CO., 395 Washington Street.

And What's More

There are plenty of Summer bargain days still in store for us.

August is the time you get value plus for your money so don't neglect your shopping. I'll soon have loads of advance fashion ideas for you—exciting "buys" in fall styles—so watch out for next week's letter.

KEEP U. S. OUT OF WAR —Be Neutral—

War Propaganda in U.S.

In the debate on the anti-neutrality bill in Congress, Gerald P. Nye, United States Senator from North Dakota, produced on [illegible] Propa[illegible]

Following is an excerpt from the [illegible]

IN THE NEXT WAR, as in the last, the result will probably depend upon the way in which the United States acts and her attitude will reflect the reaction of her public to propaganda properly applied.

During the Great War the efforts of the rival propagandists in the United States almost stag[illegible].

CAPT. LIDDELL HART
War Propaganda Editor

The Germans were the more [illegible] and their activities amounted to a degree of interference in American domestic affairs which will surely never be tolerated again.

We were almost as thorough though less blatant in our meth[illegible].

Among our multifarious activities was the supply of a regular British news sheet to no fewer than 360 smaller American papers.

For sometime the issue as to which side the United States would take hung in the balance, and if the final result was a credit to our propaganda, we were helped by the carelessness of the Germans. They continually overreached themselves and, with all their native tendency to over organization, forgot to cover up their tracks. Their propaganda was as obvious as it was energetic.

I REPEAT, it is unthinkable that such a dog fight between [illegible] Americans will again be permitted in the United States.

The American people have progressed a long way since those days when foreign politics were hardly touched upon in any but [illegible]

[illegible] the American foreign correspondent is one of the [illegible]. They have what [illegible] almost to a passion for "debunking" foreign aims and ideas but while they have encouraged Americans to interest them[illegible] in trans[illegible]

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 7. [illegible] Magazine for Young Men. An article by Dr. S. N. Stevens which contains [illegible] marked for [illegible]

"Women are generally more intuitive than empirical. In other words, they play hunches instead of examining facts in the evaluation of a situation. And I have never yet seen one who, in a tight spot, didn't try to take advantage of the fact that she was a woman."

FIRST LADY BACKS WOMEN
Stand on Own Feet, She Declares

I am willing to agree to the first part of [illegible] paragraph. Women have [illegible] and are so much quicker to feel things than men [illegible] that they occasionally [illegible]. However [illegible] trained herself [illegible] advantage over a man [illegible] she still has her intuition [illegible] has added her gift of examining facts and evaluating all the factors entering into a situation.

As to the second half of his statement [illegible] women [illegible] men who [illegible]. They are the ones who [illegible] for that is a [illegible]

THE [illegible] or on the [illegible] their own [illegible] so many [illegible] when a woman is in a tight spot which only she herself can face, that it is rather rare to find her turning to anyone else and trying to share her burden or ask for assistance on the ground that she is a woman.

What good would it do to try to get someone else to stand by when you are about to have a baby? What good would it do to turn to anyone else if your husband drank and you had to try to collect his wages before they were all spent? A woman may use her womanly ways to help her in tight spots but she isn't [illegible] the job which [illegible] and frequently it is the job of handling a man and making him think he isn't being handled.

These doctors and editors who write for magazines like this are very clever but they should know a little more about women and real life before they venture to write about them.

I HAVE a letter from a woman in the Middle West who says that she has just been "turned down without even the opportunity of an interview for a position as private secretary at a living wage for which I was qualified."

The reason given her was that she was over thirty years of age. This particular woman is a widow, the sole support of a child and an aged mother, and she is so excited over this experience that she wants to do something about it. Her ancestors were pioneers in this country and she feels that something has gone wrong with our industrial world when we cease to recognize the value of experience and stability.

She recognizes that youth and inexperience must have a job, but she feels that those who are over thirty have special things to offer as long as they are well and strong and that there is room in this country for all ages if we make a determined effort to master our economy instead of letting our economy master us. I must say that I have great sympathy for her and wish her good luck in her efforts.

Love Problems

This Alibi Sounds Phoney

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

We are both 17 and in high school. My club gave a party last June and I invited him, giving him plenty of time in which to give his answer. He finally told me he would call for me at my home, but didn't show up. He had a party a couple of nights later, but I didn't go to it, just to pay him back. This made him angry and we didn't speak for about a month.

Now our club is having a picnic, and I don't know whether I ought to invite him or not. I know loads of other boys, but they're all much older, and I'm afraid I'd be making a fool of myself if I asked them. The excuse this boy friend gave me for not coming to my party was that he was ill in bed and didn't have my phone number. Is this a [illegible]

Since you [illegible] a phone he could have looked up your number in the phone book. Or if it wasn't listed he could have got busy and asked some of your friends for it, couldn't he?

THERE will be more little Red Riding Hoods on the campus than in all the fairy tale woods since the story was first told . . . if Harper's Bazaar has the right dope on this up and coming head covering fashion. And they should have, because all their recommendations are based on actual findings and questionnaires aimed at college girls all over the country. It seems that either the girls go with no hats, no matter what the weather, or get done up in concealing items like the mouton hood illustrated, or big, salty sou'-westers. Mouton dyed beaver brown is just as silky and lush looking as the fur itself, and much less expensive. Home and Kitchen

Serve Hot and Cold

By MARTHA LEE

THIS WARM WEATHER discourages a lot of cooking and preparing food that takes much time, but there are ways of simplifying the meal so that it is substantial and yet doesn't require all your time in the kitchen getting it ready.

One of the best suggestions we can give you is to serve one hot dish, with an otherwise cold meal. You'll find it stimulates the digestion and at the same time makes the meal more appetizing and interesting.

What could be better than a large platter of steaming hot corn on the cob with a plate of cold baked ham, unless it's a large dish of hot mixed creamed vegetables served with cold rare roast beef?

PANNED CORN ON THE COB

Remove husks and silks from corn, soak in cold water for half an hour. Arrange ears of corn in a large heavy skillet or a heavy Dutch oven. Add [illegible] cup water, cover tightly and steam over medium heat for 5 to 8 minutes. Remove cover, allow water to evaporate. Add 1 tablespoon butter and 1/8 teaspoon salt for each ear of corn. Continue cooking for 5 minutes, rolling corn to prevent browning. Do not overcook. Serve hot.

MIXED CREAM VEGETABLES

4 small onions, peeled
1 cup [illegible] beans
1/2 lb. green beans
1 cup shelled peas
2 diced carrots
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
4 tbsp. butter
4 [illegible]
[illegible]
Water

[illegible] Add more boiling water if necessary, cook until done. Drain, save liquid. [illegible] flour, add milk gradually. Add enough water to vegetable liquor to make 1 2/3 cups. Combine with sauce, cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add vegetables and reheat.

Or you might start the meal off with a hot soup and have the rest of the [illegible] soups [illegible] to fix so that you won't have to heat up your kitchen in the preparation. Here are two examples:

[illegible]

1 can condensed mushroom soup
1 can condensed tomato soup
1/2 onion, sliced thin
[illegible]
[illegible]

Mix soups, water and onion together. Simmer 5 minutes. Add milk, heat, serve immediately [illegible]

EXPORTS DROP, IMPORTS GAIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP) The Commerce Department reported today that the United States [ex]ported 11 per cent but imported 14 per cent more in the first six months of this year than in the same period a year ago.

A sharp reduction in [illegible] purchases of [illegible] agricultural products was [illegible] responsible for the decreased exports, Secretary Hopkins said. Increased United States purchases of crude materials and semi manufactures accounted for the increased imports, he reported.

Exports to the United Kingdom, principal market for American agricultural products, declined 19 per cent in value during the six-month period, the department said, while agricultural shipments decreased considerably, it continued. Exports of finished manufactures to the Kingdom increased in value. [illegible]

[illegible] platinum.

Total value of exports to all countries including re-exports, was [illegible] with the $1,[illegible] for the first half of last year. Imports totaled $1,031,563,000. In the first half of 1938 they were $960,955,000.

The slump in grain exports was pronounced, such shipments being valued at less than $40,000,000 in the first six months of this year compared with more than $120,000,000 in the 1938 period.

Increased puchases of wool, hides and skins helped swell the import total. Imports from A[illegible] increased 43 per cent, from [illegible] South Africa 51 per cent and from Australia [illegible] per [cent].

Ranchers Hit Beef Imports

(Special to Boston Evening American)

CHICAGO, Aug. 7—American cattlemen today joined the protest against President Roosevelt's purchase of Argentine tinned corn beef for the American navy.

PERILS CATTLEMEN

[illegible] American Shorthorn [illegible] Association declared:

"Without question shorthorn cattlemen and other cattlemen in this country feel such purchases are detrimental to their interests.

"They are trying to make an honest living. It seems that if industry is to be protected by high tariff laws the cattle raisers should be given the same benefits."

This is especially true where such purchases are being made for an organization that is being supported directly by the tax payers' money.

"There's no doubt, of course, that tinned beef from South America of fine quality can be sold here for less than American beef of the same quality, but none of those countries have the same standard of living that we do."

INCONSISTENT POLICY

He added that manufactured articles from Japan and other [countries] can be sold for less because of cheap labor, and added:

"This country can put up any grade of beef required or demanded by the government. To say Argentine beef is superior to ours is not true."

United Light Earnings Drop

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP) The United Light & Power Co. and subsidiaries reported today for the 12 months ended June 30 net income of $3,413,993, equal to $3.69 a share on the $6 first preferred stock, compared with net income of $4,34[illegible] or 21 cents a share on [illegible] class A and B common [illegible] the preceding 12 months.

Net income of the parent company only—the United Light & Power Co.—was $640,901, equal to $1.07 a share on the first preferred, against $451,7[illegible], or 74 cents a preferred share, in the previous year.

The Houston Oil Co. of Texas for the six months ended June 30 showed net income of $527,507, equal to 23 cents a share on the common stock, compared with $341,535, or 32 cents a share in the first half of 1938.

The International [illegible] for six months ended June 30 net income of $639,284, equal to $1.53 a share on the common [illegible] against $71,253, or $1.08 a share on the preferred stock, in the first half of 1938.

AUSTEN LAKE

Lament of Youth: Sport Kids Dilemma

LETTERS THAT ANY SPORT PAGE could print

[illegible]—I am a twilight ball player from the outer fringes of Boston, playing the game each summer during supper hours after my day delivering for a chain grocery I can hit, run and field with the best and am ripe for a minor league job in some class B league. Sometimes during the season I go to Fenway Park or Bees' Field and work out with the rookie schools

AUSTEN LAKE

Hugh Duffy and Jack Onslow like my looks and have written a bale of letters to the horse-and buggy leagues around the country, asking them to give me a tryout But most of the club owners don't even answer the letters The others say they don't want young ball players, preferring the league worn castoffs of the majors who come with ready made reputations and have a strong turnstile attraction And, of course, there are only a few minor leagues nowadays where there used to be 30 or 40 in the day when likely-looking kids could land a job and make the grade. Then there were not enough castoffs to go around and no ex-leaguers tramping the rails and sleeping in barns while trying to land a ball job for breakfast and cigarette money

I have offered to pay my own traveling and hotel expenses if the minor league clubs would give me a trial But they say they are full up and even if I was another Duckey Medwick or Joe DiMaggio they would not be able to use me because they have already lost their trunks and bats for unpaid board bills and owe their players so much back pay they can't fire anybody, no matter how punk.

So when October comes I will throw away my spikes and uniform roll. I might have been another Ted Williams. But now I'll never know

The Fight Kid's Complaint

SIR I AM A TOUGH YOUNG MONKEY from the cobblestone regions of Boston I was raised under cart wheels and teethed on door knobs But I am rugged for my age and, maybe, if the times were right I would have entered the fight game and worked myself up through the dance hall boxing clubs to later riches and recognition

But suppose I want to fight Where am I going to train now that the cellar and garage gymnasiums are closed? And where are the old time four bit fight clubs to give me a trial booking and furnish a doctor to sew me up when the flap of my lip comes loose or the saddle of my nose gets bashed in [illegible] license fees and taxes have put the shoe string promoters out of business long ago The Eddie Macks and [illegible] have gone to the horse tracks And only Rip Valenti and Sam [illegible] hanging on by their finger nails hoping for a turn [illegible] But it may never come now. We younger bucks are becoming too soft The accident rate is too high and the profit [illegible]

No fight for me while shyster managers of the kind that take [illegible] a kid's skin without unbuttoning his shirt keep crawling out of the walls Don't worry about me I should get my ears pinned back [illegible] I can lift out a fat weeks pay in the downtown office hall [illegible] as legman for a bookmaker, with a sideline of Sweeps and number stubs I get mine off the top

HAL TROSKY CHARLEY KELLER

DEBATING SOCIETY—They start to argue even before the ump calls it, as this talky seeming scene in Yankee Stadium shows. Charley Keller of the Yanks skids back to first as Hal Trosky of the Indians tries to catch the Yank napping, in first game of Sunday twin bill. Yanks lost both to Injun

YANKS FACE FLYING NATS; SOX PICTURE LUCKY WEEK

By JOE CASHMAN

[illegible] master showman and expert psychologist, in addition to being a manager and shortstop deserving of [illegible] informed that his contract as Red Sox boss will be renewed.

That's why the Sunday crowd of [illegible] precedented spectacle of [illegible] Emory Foxx on the Hose [illegible] the ninth inning of the [illegible] of the doubleheader with [illegible]

Foxx a Team All by Himself

Jimmy Foxx grabbed a new honor when he pitched yesterday at Fenway. He became one of the few major leaguers who have played every position In 15 years of professional ball, Jimmy has been in each of the nine berths

JEERS TO CHEERS

And [illegible]

The jeers from the galleries turned to loud applause when the Fenway home-run king jogged to the hill and developed into deafening cheers when "Double X" retired the side in order without permitting a ball to be hit beyond the infield

[illegible] Yankees [illegible] Indians over in New York [illegible] would be a new high [illegible]

The first batter to face him was Mike "Pinky" H[illegible] Red Sox and A[illegible] and [illegible]

"Don't throw any spitters" Umpire Eddie Rommel warned Jimmy before he cut loose his first pitch

"Spitters, h—l," "Double X" growled. "All I know how to do is blaze that ball in there."

[illegible] strike past Mike swinging at and [illegible] Frank Croucher [illegible] weakly [illegible]

No hits, no runs, no errors.

[illegible] bably last in- [illegible] a regular big [illegible]

CRONIN TELLS PITCHERS

"See how easy it is," Cronin bellowed to his bench-warming pitchers as Foxx was doing his stuff. "All you have to do to be a winning pitcher is stay ahead of the hitter and keep that ball around the plate. I've been telling you that all along, but you've paid no attention. Maybe the sight of a first baseman out there showing you up will convince you I'm right."

He was directing his remarks mainly at Denny Galehouse, Woody [illegible] Jake Wade, who had [illegible] and four walks up to [illegible] the Maryland macer appeared on the scene

Whether or not Wilson heard the [illegible] he acted as though he had at least been informed of the [illegible] speech

[illegible] the eighth inning Black Jack pitched [illegible] ball Possibly because he wasn't [illegible] by Moe Berg who had caught only one full game previous this season [illegible] had a breeze

It was his seventh win of the year, and in gaining it he became the first Sox pitcher, outside of Grove to last nine innings d[illegible]

HUTCHINSON WINS

He also made it possible for the Sox to finish with an 8 7 record for their third Fenway stand against [illegible] Western entries who gained the edge in each of their first two [illegible]

Freddie Hutchinson $50,000 rookie from Seattle, chalked up his second big league win in three starts by holding the Hose to six hits [illegible]

He looked like a good pitcher and equally good hitter He went [illegible] singles, drove in a run and scored [illegible]

Eight games behind the Yanks, the Sox rest up today for the [illegible] two series of their present home stay.

They're booked for four games in three days with the Athletics, starting tomorrow the while the sagging Yanks will be meeting the flying Senators in W[illegible]

Dapper Dan Course Testing

PITTSBURGH Aug. 7 (AP)—Jimmy Thomson Shawnee on Delaware sharpshooter figures the big time pros in the $10,000 Dapper Dan open may run into trouble on the Wildwood Country Club course

One of the first to arrive in town for the rich classic starting next Thursday, the blond powerhouse polished off a one over par 71 on the 6413 yard course and prophesied

"The course is in great shape Of course, you can't tell what the fellows will do the way they have been busting par of late. But I don't think they'll tear this course apart"

He declined to venture a guess on the winning score of the 72 hole medal play but calculated it would take par or better to pull down the $2500 top prize

Bees Play Dodgers Tonight

EN ROUTE TO BROOKLYN, Aug. [illegible] Casey Stengel [illegible] Bees to a nocturnal battle with those not so daffy Dodgers tonight [illegible] swarm captured the final game [illegible] Chicago Cubs.

The Bees can thank Al Simmons, Max West and Milt Shoffner for a 9 to 8 victory in twelve innings.

[illegible]

When the game ended Al was [illegible] and winning runs were [illegible]

[illegible] five run lead.

Danny MacFayden was Boston's [illegible] whale of a game until the sixth when the Cubs connected for four blows and their first two runs. They rang up four more hits in a row in the seventh before Errickson was called to put out the fire and registered three more tallies. In the ninth a timely triple by Bill [illegible] the score and sent Errickson on his way. Then Shoffner came in and the Cubs' fun was over.

Bill Posedel who pitched so well one night against the Cincinnati gets the nod from Stengel to keep the Bees on victory trail.

AL LOPEZ HANK LEIBER

RIDE 'IM COWBOY—Al Lopez of the Bees gets a free ride as he puts out Hank Leiber of the Cubs at the plate in the eighth frame of the Sunday game. Leiber tried to score from third after Russell's fly to West. Bees won out, 9 to 8, in 12 innings.

YANKS STILL PROVE BEST DRAWING CARD

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (INS). [illegible] League [illegible] Sox today they had once again demonstrated their right to the [illegible] drawing card in baseball. [illegible]

[illegible] to the Cleveland Indians [illegible] young Bobby Feller.

Feller won his 16th game against [illegible] in the opener, with Jeff Heath's homer in the seventh clinching the contest.

Five of the six top baseball crowds have congregated at the Yankees Stadium. The mightiest crowd of all—81,841—attended the doubleheader here [illegible] the Red Sox May 30, 1938.

Second best was the [illegible] who saw the Athletics at the stadium in two games in 1928.

Third is the 80,184 in attendance for a twin bill between Cleveland and Philadelphia to open Municipal stadium, the Tribe's park, in 1932, fourth, 79,000 in the stadium to witness a 1934 doubleheader with [illegible]

[illegible] than Feller in the opener [illegible] News' Hale in addition to Heath hit a four bagger for Cleveland. [illegible] with four hits in the nightcap.

By winning a doubleheader, 8 to 3 and 11 to 0 from the Phillies [illegible] to 0, and then beat Brooklyn 8 to 6, the Cardinals further [illegible]

[illegible] the biggest attendance of the year at Crosley Field. Paul Derringer blew in the ninth when the Dodgers scored all their tallies.

Bob Weiland of the Cards registered a five hit shutout in the first game with the Phils.

The Boston Bees beat the Chicago Cubs, 9 to 8, when Max West exploded a homer off Passeau in the 12th inning. Jim Klinger pitched [illegible] Giants licked the Bucs in the opener, 9 to 5.

Rideout, Roughed Up In London Mile, 4th

LONDON, Aug. [illegible] (AP). [illegible] Wooderson's [illegible] shadow [illegible] who [illegible] whipped a strong field in the mile race of the international track and field meet at the White City Stadium [illegible]

[illegible] 4:15.2 as Blaine Rideout, American [illegible] fourth.

[illegible] incident with Rideout in the [illegible] ten mile in June stirred the track [illegible]

Rideout, leading at the quarter in 60.1 seconds and at the half in 2:06.1, was forced wide when he tried to retake the lead on the turn going into the last lap after Pell and Janusz Stanikzewski of [illegible] Poland had passed him.

[illegible] he had been blocked when he [illegible]

[illegible] Great Britain [illegible] Poland [illegible]

Great Britain also picked up a [illegible] in the mile and scored nine [illegible] events remaining, the U. S. led [illegible] points to Britain's 33.

BORROWING money for household or other family needs is a simple, dignified transaction if handled thru the Loan Companies offering their services daily in the "Money to Loan" columns of the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser.

Mr. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

THE MERGER between the Boston Garden and Mike Jacobs' Twentieth Century Club on boxing is backed by the fighting ability of Billy Conn of Pittsburgh, world's light heavyweight champion, and Hammering Henry Armstrong, world's lightweight and welterweight champion. These are the two boxers who Brown and Jacobs feel can put new life into the ring game in this city.

Jacobs, of course, has Joe Louis as his chief ace, but it is unlikely that a suitable opponent can be secured to send against the "Brown Bomber" in this city. Boston certainly does not want a bout of the calibre of the Louis Roper affair which was inflicted on Los Angeles last spring. The fans of Boston and New England have had too much experience watching great fighters to accept third and fourth rate matches.

If the Boston Garden-Jacobs combine offers first class attractions it will gain the support of the public.

"I believe Billy Conn will be one of our best cards," said Walter Brown of the Garden. "Conn has proved himself a top fighter in winning the world's light heavyweight championship. In addition he is Irish which will give him a good pull at the box office. Mike O'Dowd, Jock Malone, Jim Maloney, Dick Finnegan, Mike Glover and other boxers with Irish backgrounds always did well here.

"Hype Igoe and other keen judges of boxing believe Conn will put on weight, and that he is the best bet in sight to win the heavyweight title from Joe Louis.

"Mike Jacobs has also made arrangements for Hammering Henry Armstrong to show here. Leading colored boxers have always done well in Boston since the palmy days of Sam Langford. When Tiger Flowers was world's middleweight champion, he drew some big houses for Eddie Mack and Bob McKirdy."

Tex Rickard Liked Boston for Boxing

THE LATE Tex Rickard, who with Tom Goodwin were my idea of the two leading boxing promoters in the world, was considering Boston for a world's heavyweight championship bout shortly before his untimely death. At the time Jack Sharkey was one of the world's outstanding heavyweights, and it was Tex's plan to feature Sharkey against a suitable opponent.

"Heavyweight fights are like a circus," said Rickard. "They should be moved around from place to place. This is why I did so well with the Dempsey-Tunney match in Philadelphia. It was a new show for the town, and I ended up drawing $1,800,000."

Joe Louis wouldn't draw here as there isn't any local opposition. Two years ago Al McCoy was seriously considered as an opponent for Louis, but Al is now concentrating on getting a bout with Billy Conn. McCoy has been unable to build himself into a real heavyweight, and would show to better advantage if he took off five or six pounds and clashed with light heavyweights.

At 178 to 180 pounds McCoy would have an even chance of winning from Conn.

Goodwin Club to Remain in Local Field

"RIP" VALENTI'S Goodwin A. C. will remain in the local boxing field. Valenti has carried the boxing load during the dark days of boxing and now that the sport is picking up in all sections of the country he is entitled to share in the expected profits.

Mike Jacobs has control of most of the big boxing cards, but if the game continues to improve there will be sufficient attractions for all of the clubs. Valenti is sure to end up with his share of the good boxers.

When Tom Goodwin was New England's leading boxing promoter, he had Tex Rickard to consider, but he nevertheless managed to develop Jack Sharkey, Jim Maloney, Al Mello, Chick Suggs, Dick Finnegan, Red Chapman, Sammy Fuller and other headliners who drew large gates for him.

I do not believe Valenti will worry too much about the Garden-Jacobs competition. When boxing did best in Boston in the days following the war, there were six rival clubs. Each of them made money.

Competition in anything is helpful, and stimulates public interest. The quickest way to kill any sport other than by pre-arranged matches is by long periods of inactivity between shows. A restless public then finds some place else to go, and does not return to its old love.

Swifty SAYS:

"Looks as if this is one of the biggest week's work I've ever had with the first two of the World Series' races between Rural Rube and Cherokee Streller coming up. But I'm ready for the champions because I had a good rest over Sunday.

PARK LOOP PLAYOFF FIGHT ON

Playoff drives in the Boston Park League swing into the back stretch tonight when the fourteenth week of the 1939 campaigns gets under way with but two weeks of scheduled games in which the clubs may attain a preferred spot in the standings.

Tonight at Fallon Field, the Navy Yard A. A., a club which has made a jump from the cellar of the West Division to a third-place tie with Holy Name, goes after the fourth straight win.

If the Navy beats Holy Name they have a good chance to overtake the Murphy club which is in the tail of the divisional leading Dic. Casey crew.

IRISH AT FULL STRENGTH

Johnny Grimley or Lefty Volk will mount the Namers' hill and bid to silence the heavy sticking guns of Hegner, Goodreau and McArdle.

At Berry Playground in Charlestown, Joe McCarthy St. Catherine's will have Goobey or Mortimer ready to chuck against the Murphy Club of Brighton and the Irish, in a determined effort to stay in second place will arrive at Bunker Hill at full strength with Hickman taking his turn on the rubber.

St. Alphonsus will renew their push to oust St. Augustines from second place in the East with a formidable obstacle in the Casey Club whom they play at Dorchester Town Field. Marty McDermott will start for the Saints and Casey will match him with O'Hara or Sammy White.

FOUR STARS INJURED

A crippled Star of the Sea Club which has had four players badly injured in the last two weeks goes to C. J. Lee Park in South Boston to engage Ray Coolidge's Town Club. Despite bad breaks all season in the last-inning loss of many ball games, Coolidge's crew will go after a win tonight with Dillon on the rubber.

Olympets Move To Arena

The Boston Arena, enlarged and improved, will be the site of the Olympets next softball battle in which the Burnham Brady Girls of Hartford will furnish the contention, on next Thursday evening, August 10.

The Pets continued their batting assault on opposing pitchers when they combed Ella Lyons, Rhode Island set pitcher's fast stuff for 13 ringing hits.

The batting honors were taken over by Edna Stafford, sharp hitting right fielder from Wakefield. Edna bapped out 3 hits in 5 attempts and boosted her average to .422.

Dot Green and Virginia Dagg, both of whom were leading the Stafford girl a week ago, went hitless and dropped down. Dot managed to stay within the .400 circle with a percentage of .410, but Virginia slid to .394.

Mary Pratt will be back on the hill for the Olympets on next Thursday evening when Hartford invades the Hub.

POOL TO LINKS. Dorothy Poynton Hill, glamorous swimming heroine of Olympic fame, has turned golfer. She will compete in Riviera Country Club's invitational tournament shortly. She hits tee shot with same perfect form that characterized her diving performances. Mrs. Hill turned pro after the last Olympics.

DORIS BRENNAN SWIMS IN MARBLEHEAD MEET

Doris Brennan, national 300 yards and meters medley champion, heads the entries in the swimming carnival at the Corinthian Yacht Club, Marblehead, Wednesday evening.

Recently at the national championships, Miss Brennan proved she is still the most versatile natad from New England and representing the Olneyville Boys' Club Auxiliary, the outstanding club, that is also sending Edan Soltysiak, joint holder of the national junior 150 yards medley and former N. E. champion.

These two stars will compete in the 100 meters freestyle and 100 meters breaststroke, both invitation races. The 12-year-old star, Norma Ewart, who won the N. E. junior 440-yard freestyle in her first appearance, will try to annex the junior 150 meters medley individual championship.

The men will be represented in the 100 meters freestyle by Witold Babula, N. E. senior 100 meters titlist, and Matt Soltysiak, N. E. intercollegiate champion.

George Gibbons, who is N. E. senior 300 meters medley, 220-yard and 880-yard king, will be in action in the 100 meters backstroke, along with Charles Zaikowski, one who is shaping like a future champion.

Cheer 'Trudy' On Anniversary Of Channel Swim

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—They remembered to give Gertrude Ederle an extra big hand last night.

It was 13 years to the day since she swam the English Channel—35 miles of heavy seas from Gris-nez, France, to Kingsdown, England, in a little over 14 hours.

So 10,000 fans at the Aquacade, a giant swimming show at the New York World's Fair, whistled and cheered and stamped when "Trudy," now 32, completed her short sprint across a placid pool and waved back at those who had not forgotten.

Play Badminton And Get Longer Lunch Period!

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 7 (AP)—All Principal productions executives and employes henceforth may have half an hour extra at lunch, provided they spend the additional time playing badminton.

Producer Sol Lesser said the company would benefit from improved health of wrokers who get mid-day physical exercise.

He even employed Norm Durkin of Detroit, Midwest professional champion, as instructor.

Wilson Needs Berg's Catching | Thornhill Expects Pool to Star

By BILL GRIMES

The Red Sox passed up an opportunity to pull up within hailing distance of the Yankees, when their pitchers let them down and they lost two out of three to the Detroit Tigers . . . After using five pitchers on Saturday, Joe Cronin found Denny Galehouse, Woody Rich and Jake Wade wanting, so Jimmy Foxx hurled the ninth inning of Sunday's twin bill . . .

Jimmy displayed more stuff and a better knowledge of pitching than any of his predecessors . . . He wasn't "chucking" he was pitching . . . Then, Jack Wilson came up with the best game he has hurled this season . . . Moe Berg had Wilson pitching to "spots" until the Red Sox had the game in the win column . . . Berg should be behind the plate in every game that Jack Wilson is on the hilltop . . . Jack has a barrel of stuff, and Berg is the gentleman who knows how to make him pitch . . .

Jack Wilson

Although he is still green when he gets in a "tight," Freddie Hutchinson is a major leaguer . . . The 19-year-old boy from the Coast allowed the Red Sox but six hits, three of which were scattered between the third and ninth innings . . . He was entitled to a shut out and would have come up with one but for the fact that Denny Galehouse happened to be swinging where he pitched in the second inning and singled to center scoring Jim Tabor, whose drive to left was carried against the left field wall by the East wind.

★ ★ ★

The Chicago Police Department would be dragging Lake Michigan for Casey Stengel's body this morning, if the Bees had succeeded in blowing yesterday's game to the Cubs . . . The Bees got back a five-run lead, but a home run by "Flapsie Maxie" West in the 12th round gave them the verdict . . . Sebby Sisti is improving daily according to reports, and in another year he'll take his place among the best infielders in the National League . . .

★ ★ ★

Freddie Wright, seven-time winner of the Massachusetts amateur championship and Dave Whiteside, the 1937 titleholder, look to be the class at the Country Club of New Bedford annual four-ball invitation . . . However, it will be well for the boys who have a "yen" to wager on the outcome not to overlook Mel Demarais and Dr. MacKinstry and Teddy Adams and Charlie Crowley . . . Ted Adams, who took over the state amateur crown when Freddie Wright defaulted at Tedesco, is capable of playing unbeatable golf and with the assistance he'll get from Charlie Crowley, will be tough to beat . . . Pres. Will Hamilton and his newsmen golfers were at the Marshfield Country Club today . . . They'll be more than the usual number of "No Cards" for Marshfield is one of the stiffest tests in the state.

Fred Wright

★ ★ ★

Coach Tiny Thornhill of Stanford, predicts that Hampton Pool will be one of the best guards in the country this season. Pool played freshman football at the University of California and was fullback on a plebe team at West Point before he matriculated to Leland Stanford . . . He was a fullback at Berkeley and "The Point" but he was poor in mathematics so he requested that he be played in the line . . .

★ ★ ★

Willie Turnesa, the national amateur champion, will play in the Eastern Amateur championship this week at Syracuse, N. Y. . . . Bob Kenefick, Jr. who is handling the publicity for the Eastern Amateur Golf Championship, Inc, would like to have Joe Lynch, Blue Hill, in the field . . . Jeff Podesta, Princeton University, ranking Eastern intercollegiate player and winner of the New York clay court title will have a banner entry for the fourth annual Bretton Woods, N. H. invitation tennis tournament Aug. 10, 11 and 12 . . . Rodney W. Brown, Jr., The Country Club, was married today . . . The Yankees saw some pretty fair country pitching yesterday, when Manager Oscar Vitt of the Cleveland Indians handed them Bob Feller and Mel Harder . . . I see that Grimes replaced Webb at short stop for Cleveland in the second game yesterday . . . Those Webbs are "umbrellas" . . . They fold.

Willie Turnesa

It's a strange state of affairs when golf professionals who can't break 80, except when they are playing with members of their home clubs who labor under 30 handicaps, can rule as to what tournaments a playing pro shall engage in . . . Although there are 1800 odd members of the Professional Golfers' Ass'n you can count the number of real golfers on your fingers and toes . . . The $1500 Burlington Country Club open is definitely on . . . And, the outstanding golfers in this section will journey to the Green Mountain State next week to play for some of that heavy sugar.

'OLD MAN' BRAND HIT BY GABBY

GABBY HARTNETT

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Gabby Hartnett wants to scotch stories that managerial woes have made him a dour old man.

Leading his Chicago Cubs in defense of their National League championship, Hartnett has been beset by injuries, feeble hitting and sore pitching arms among his players, yet he said today:

"Baseball does two things to you—it teaches you to 'take it', and it keeps you young.

"As a manager I've had plenty more worries, but I'm still sticking to the idea that good humor and cheerfulness are the best bets no matter what your job is.

"Maybe they don't always show on the outside as much as they should, but they're still there, all right.

"I've been in professional baseball 17 years, 18 of them with the Cubs, and I wouldn't have learned much about the game if I didn't realize it was give and take, with a lot of take sometimes.

"No, in spite of the extra worries, I haven't changed."

ADVICE TO KIDS

Hartnett said he'd like to get across to boys that "baseball is a good career, and because it keeps you youthful it ought to appeal to kids more than it does."

"I can't figure out kids today," he observed, "they seem to be paying more attention to golf. They'll go out and caddy for 75 cents or a dollar a day in order to get a little spending money.

"There's no future in that. But baseball really offers something."

Completely an outdoor man, Gabby uncovered his artistic side when he took a crack at vocalizing on the radio a few nights ago.

Admirers said it was as good as a home run with the bases loaded. Gabby said: "Didn't think I had it in me."

Mass. Crew Trails By Only 1 Point

YOUNGSTOWN, N. Y., Aug. 7 (AP)—A crew of freshwater sailors from yacht clubs here and in Toronto, Ont., held a slim one-point edge over saltwater veterans from Marblehead, Mass., and Long Island Sound in two heats of an invitational eight-meter regatta today.

Skipper E. J. Doyle of Youngstown raced the Conewago of Youngstown over a 7½-mile triangular course to win the second heat in 1:15:22. Capt. Nelson Aldrich brought his Marblehead yacht crew in second in the Invader 2d, followed by the Norseman, manned by Skipper Drake Sparkman and his Long Island Sound crew.

FATHER-SON NET TOURNEY GROWS

While the national father-and-son lawn tennis tournament has always been a sort of side show to the doubles championships at Longwood, it is apparent from the size and quality of the early entries that the event will take on a new stature this year.

Clement M. Burnholme, chairman of the tournament committee, announced at Longwood Cricket Club this morning that the father-and-son entry list now contains these names:

MICHIGAN STAR HERE

Alfred D. Hammett and Lawson (No. 1 on Michigan freshman this spring) Englewood, N. J.; E. D. Toland and son, Concord, N. H.; George T. Turney and G. William, Narragansett Pier, R. I.; John C. Bell, Jr., and George B., Philadelphia; C. K. Shaw and son, New York; Donald M. Hill and Calvin A., Boston.

Also G. T. Crandall and Pete, Westfield, N. Y.; Roger C. Fenn and Abbott T., Concord; John F. Antiqua and Raymond F., Northport, N. Y.; H. Clifford Brown and Gwyn's F., Summit, N. J.; Arthur C. Kaiser and Wilbur C., River Forest, Ill.; Armand Bruneau and Richard A., N. Y.; Arthur T. Tuttle and Arthur, Jr., West Chop, Martha's Vineyard.

Six tournaments will be run simultaneously and Longwood's turf is in perfect condition for the coming assault.
